CANADA RICH.
PINK BOLL WEEVIL.
EDUCATING EDUCATED.
—By Arthur Brisbane—
(Copyright 1929, By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THE Quebec liquor commission reports to the provincial treasury full of overflowing after paying billions in tariff and other taxes to the dominion is thanked for Quebec's wonderful prosperity. American citizens go there, to drink and spend. American bootleggers go there to import supplies.

THIS nation loses hundreds of millions that it once collected from brewers and others, and spends other millions in the fight against bootlegging. However, the law and constitutional provision exist. And the duty of the government is to make the best fight possible, against heavy odds.

CONGRESS has appropriated $587,000 to fight the pink boll weevil in Arizona. An experimenter in this state believes that cotton and other plants might be fed in such a way as to discourage pests that destroy them.

CERTAIN minerals, it is suggested, could be harmlessly absorbed by plants and would be fatal to the attacking insect life. Perhaps what Dr. Ehrlich did with his salvarsan might be done to other pests, as harmful as the salvarsan specialty.

AT Lady Astor's, George Bernard Shaw gave Dwight Morrow, and other American naval conference delegates, his views on the conference. He said the next naval battle would be a fight between America and England and "your conference is called to decide that you will fight 12 instead of 15 miles apart, with smaller boats and smaller guns."

DELEGATES were surprised at the amount of chocolate cake, eaten by Shaw, a large cake, all for him. That comes of a vegetable diet. Unable to get his supply of calories and protein food, condensed in meat, Shaw must absorb great quantities of substitutes. Not good for him.

AT NEW YORK'S copper union institute of technology 150 trained chemists are taking "an education for the educated," course in chemical engineering. Scientific knowledge increases as rapidly that men determined to keep up must go back to school at intervals or read intensely.

AT THE beginning of this century, serious chemists agreed that the science of chemistry had gone about as far as it could be expected to go, ever, and in the last 30 years chemists have learned 10 times as much as they had learned in the thousands of years before 1900. There is no limit to knowledge. The earth will last millions of millions of years longer. And we are only 12,000 years from the late stone age. How much shall we know, say in the year three million.

RECENTLY in Los Angeles, the old-fashioned Chinese celebrated their New Year's day old style. Modern China takes over our calendar, new year and all. Some Chinese think that may offend the gods. Conspicuous in the celebration was the "Chinese lion" carried on men's shoulders, doing a fantastic dance, on a rope-enclosed platform. The dance lasted for hours. When it was over the lion collected money and food. He was not a real lion, of course. Old-fashions are vanishing. It is thought China's New Year lion will never see again in this country.

BANDITS HOLD UP NATIONAL BANK

Cashier and Assistant Gagged As Two Men Loot Cash Drawers; Escape With $1,000 Loot

CAREY, O., Feb. 15.—Two unmasked armed bandits strode into the First National bank here Friday afternoon, bound the cashier and his assistant, looted the cash drawers and escaped with approximately $1,000 in cash.

There were no customers in the bank when the daring daylight holdup and robbery occurred. The two gunmen forced Cashier I. L. Culler and his assistant, William Ogg, into the rear room of the bank, bound their hands and feet and gagged them.

They quickly obtained the money and made their get-away in an automobile which they had parked about a block from the bank.

THIRD MAN SOUGHT IN HORST CASE

NICK WILL FACE JURY ON CHARGE OF KILLING MAN

Insanity To Be Plea Of Lisbon Slayer; Has Had Examination

DOCTORS DECLARE MIND NOT SOUND

May Be Sent to Hospital For Criminals At Lima, Ohio

LISBON, Feb. 15.—George Nick, 38, who was indicted by the January grand jury for the murder of Christie Bazaras, and who recently entered a plea of "not guilty because of insanity," will go before a jury in common pleas court the week of Feb. 24 for the purpose of having his mentality determined.

This announcement was made following a conference between Prosecutors Attorney John E. Baucknecht and Judge W. F. Loma Friday afternoon.

Several weeks ago Nick was examined at the county jail by Dr. Hyde, superintendent of the Massillon State Hospital and Dr. Seward Harris of Lisbon, and a report filed with Prosecutor Baucknecht gave as the opinion of the examining physicians that Nick was irresponsible at the time he shot Bazaras.

Bazaras died in the Salem City hospital three hours after he was shot.

Should the jury find Nick to have been insane at the time he shot Bazaras, he will be committed to the Lima State hospital for the criminal insane.

It's a Sure Sign Of Early Spring

Residents south of Salem reported Saturday morning that they had seen a large flock of geese flying north. This is said to be a sure sign of spring by unofficial weather observers.

SAILFISH EVADE HOOVER'S LURES

Party's Record Still In Hands of Mrs. Stone; Leave Tonight

LONG KEY, FLA., Feb. 15.—President Hoover wound up a one-week vacation in Florida today with one final fling at sailfish. He caught one the first day out, but since then Mrs. Hoover and all his guests have tagged his catch.

Tonight, after dinner, the presidential party will entrain for Washington. They will reach the capital very early Monday morning. All of Mr. Hoover's efforts with rod and reel this week have been rather unsatisfactory. For the most part he has sat patiently in the stern of his boat and acquired nothing but a red-hot sunburn while his friends were pulling in the game fish that frequent the Gulf Stream.

Mrs. Stone, wife of the associate justice of the supreme court, holds the record for the week with a 66-pound sailfish that required a 47-pound pull. This compares with a 47-pounder the president caught, and all of his guests have beaten that figure.

Today's fishing will be limited due to the departure. Arrangements were made to return to the Long Key fishing club at two o'clock to insure ample time for packing.

Yesterday, the president went 22 miles south in an effort to catch a real fish, but all he got was a barracouta.

The rest of the party caught various types of smaller fish that totaled 120 pounds in weight, according to Larry Richey, the piscatorial secretary.

Mr. Hoover started his baby floutilla out this morning almost due east from Long Key. It was there Mrs. Stone caught the heavy fish of the trip.

Miner Crushed To Death In Accident

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Feb. 15.—James Dieria, 57, a coal miner, was crushed to death today under an empty mine car which was being shunted to where he was working at the mine of the H. R. Brown and Son Coal company, at Roswell, near here.

The miner was knocked and crushed beneath the heavy car, as he stood on the track waiting for the car to arrive. Officials of the mining company said that Dieria had either thrown the switch the wrong way or had not thrown it at all.

ATTLEBORO, MASS., Feb. 15.—Miss Violet Michael, 18, who started schooling at 6:30 p. m. last Sunday when her mother returned to her home in New Bedford, and continued to school, was practically cured today, according to her physician, Dr. E. R. White.

CHICAGO DRIVE AGAINST CRIME BRINGS RESULTS

New Murder Spurs Police In Effort To Rid City of Crooks

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Another slaying was added to Chicago's crime record today with the finding of the bullet-riddled body of Tony Lombardo, 25-year-old bootlegging racketeer and underworld character.

Lombardo had been lured or driven into an alley and then slain. He was shot through the head and the body with a double barreled shotgun and a revolver, evidently wielded by two men.

The shotgun was found 15 feet from the body where it had been tossed when the assassins fled. Lombardo, police believe, found his alcohol racket too limited and turned to extortion among members of the Italian district to obtain ready money. One of his intended victims "put him on the spot," it is believed.

The slaying of Lombardo punctuated a concerted drive against crime which has been waged unrelentingly for the last week.

Over 500 hoodlums, including four gunmen, were captured in yesterday's drive, bringing the total arrested close to 3,000. Forty men in all were found to be carrying guns and face penitentiary sentences as a result.

Police Commissioner William Russell, in addressing the police captains yesterday, gave no word of praise for the cleanup, but issued the command:

"Keep it up and do better. Every hoodlum must be jailed or chased out of the city."

SALEM-LISBON HIGHWAY WORK ACTION HALTED

Excessive Damage Claims Said To Be Cause Of Changes

LISBON, Feb. 15.—Proposal to open bids for the improvement of the brick section of the Lisbon-Salem road at the February letting will be withdrawn, because of the excessive damage claims demanded by property owners. Whether or not the proposal for bids will be re-submitted for March or April letting cannot be determined at this time, it was announced today.

There is continued agitation in Salem township for the county commissioners to grade and improve a Salem-Lisbon road through that township by way of Franklin Square. The fact that no bids will be opened by the state highway department this month may indicate that serious consideration is being given the proposed new route, which is just one-half mile longer between Lisbon and Salem than is the present traveled route.

CIVIL WAR VETS HONOR LINCOLN

Veterans Participate In Program At Birthday Anniversary

Five Civil war veterans, Levi Stamp, Charles Bonnell, Henry Older, William Horn and Smith R. Reed were guests of Philip Triem camp No. 43, Sons of Union Veterans, at a meeting Friday evening when the camp observed Lincoln's birthday anniversary.

Charles Bonnell recited Edwin Markham's tribute to Lincoln's war record. William Horn told about seeing Lincoln before his inauguration. The other veterans gave brief talks.

The musical numbers included selections by the Sons of Veterans quartet; harmonica solos by G. H. Mounts and saxophone solos by Henry Lottman. Following the program an oyster supper was served.

Attorney General Gilbert Bettman today gave this ruling to officials of the state bureau of inspection of public offices.

DRYS PREPARE COUNTER FIGHT AGAINST WETS

Will Answer To Charges Hurlled by Orators In Past Week

SILENCE WILL BE BROKEN IN DEBATE

Maine Legislator To Lead Attack Against Those Favoring Repeal

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Smarting under the constant hammering of anti-prohibition forces, congressional drys today rallied and promised to inaugurate a counter-offensive in the house today.

Rep. Brady (R) of Maine was selected to take the floor for the drys and not only assail wet claims that drinking is rampant but defend enforcement as effective in a large part of the country.

Another militant dry, Rep. Spraul (R) of Kansas, also planned to take the floor to answer the speech recently made by Rep. Schafer (R) of Wisconsin, who declared the Bible approved moderate drinking.

With Rep. LaGuardia (R) of New York slated to make an answer for the wets, a free-for-all debate was predicted.

The drys generally have been content to remain silent in the face of wet activity in both branches of congress. Recently, one of the leading anti-prohibition speakers, took the floor recently to defend the coast guard after the killing of rum runners in Long Island sound.

Rep. Spraul's ire was aroused by the Schafer speech. He announced the title of his own address as: "If Christ Were On Earth Today As He Was Once In Judea Would He Be A Dry?"

The answer, Spraul says, is emphatically yes.

Spraul may also speak for his proposed amendments to the Wickensham crime commission's bills including his "human padlock" idea. Meanwhile both wets and drys were rallying witnesses for the wet bill hearings by the house judiciary committee next week. The wets have called so many witnesses it is doubtful whether they can complete presentation of their case in the two days allowed.

Walter W. Liggett, magazine writer, who started the committee with sensational charges on the first day of its hearings, is being challenged from all sides. He will be invited before the committee to defend them.

It provides for centralized effort in Salem real estate activities.

Bandits Captured Byirate Victims

CLEVELAND, Feb. 15.—Four gunmen learned today that to get hedged in between a Chicagoan and Cleveland police is like being between the "devil and the deep blue sea."

The gunmen entered a house in northeast Cleveland early today and robbed J. B. Pierce of Chicago and Al Hayes, Cleveland, of $12 and a watch. Pierce was badly beaten about the head, but his Chicago fighting spirit came to the fore as the gunmen started to flee and he and Hayes gave chase.

Patrolman John Boyzk, driving an emergency police wagon, saw the chase and swung his car to block the street. When the gunmen saw escape was blocked, they gave themselves up to police.

LONG CAREER OF CRIME DISCLOSED BY CONVICT; ADMITS TWO MURDERS

Cleveland Policeman Was Victim of Gun; Bank Robberies Many

CLEVELAND, Feb. 15.—In 30 pages of confession, telling an almost fiction-like story of crime which left a trail of murders, robberies, and holdups in the middle west, George Williams, 68, ex-convict, was pictured today as one of the most daring desperadoes since the days of Pennsylvania's notorious Paul Jaworski.

Breaking under the steady fire of police grilling, Williams late yesterday confessed the murder of Patrolman Carl A. Sherman here last March 6, the murder of Justice Brown, Columbus grocer, the shooting of a St. Louis policeman and numerous other crimes in Cincinnati, Wheeling, and Minneapolis.

New pages of Williams' criminal biography were expected to be added today when the man will be placed in the "question box" for further grilling. Police declared they will attempt to uncover every crime Williams has executed.

Williams' "break" and subsequent confession came yesterday following his identification by Sgt. Martin Hoffman as the man who shot Patrolman Sherman here. Hoffman also identified Charles "Sonny" Hanovich, 22, as Williams' youthful "sidekick" and gun wielder who participated in the gun battle in which Sherman was killed. The two desperadoes were brought here from Chicago where they were captured by Cleveland police.

Neill as superintendent of the Columbiana county home will be continued by the county commissioners next week, it was announced today. The examination of witnesses for the commissioners will be under the direction of Prosecuting Atty. John E. Baucknecht.

In addition to calling for examination those who signed affidavits charging Neill with different offenses, others will be offered whose names have been mentioned in the testimony that has already been taken.

The commissioners will not render a decision until after the record has been studied when examination of all witnesses has closed.

PROSECUTOR IN EFFORT TO FIND BODY OF CHILD

Believe Object of Search May Have Knowledge Of Murder

SUSPECTS STILL HURL ACCUSATION

Both Declare They Have No Knowledge Of Boy's Grave

WOOSTER, Feb. 15.—A third man was being sought today in connection with the mysterious disappearance of 4-year-old Melvin Horst, of Orville, who has been missing since the night of Dec. 27, 1928, while Wayne county officials were concentrating their efforts to locate the body of the slain boy.

The angle that a third man might be connected with the little boy's disappearance 14 months ago, was presented by Special Prosecutor Walter J. Mougey. He used his belief that a third man may be implicated on the two statements of Earl Conald and Charles Hanna, both of whom stated that they did not know what was done with the body, but each accusing the other of the killing.

Mougey declared that the two men, who are now being held, may have told the truth in their statements in which they both denied any knowledge of the disposition of the body. It is Mougey's belief that a third man carried off the dead body after the allegedly brutal murder.

The signed statements of Conald and Hanna, both of which stated that the boy had been killed in a garage on the property of a Frank Frye, where Conald lived, are in possession of authorities.

No charges have yet been placed against the two, although charges of child-stealing were prepared yesterday. Prosecutors Marion Graven and Mougey continued their questioning of the two men in the hope of solving Ohio's most notorious mystery, and securing a clue to the whereabouts of the missing boy's body.

Officials are still lacking a motive for the slaying of the little son of Raymond Horst. Meanwhile, charges of murder cannot be placed against anyone until the body is discovered or its remains are found.

Prosecutor Graven declared that it was his personal opinion that the people of Ohio, as well as all residents of Wayne county, are "tired of child-stealing charges." What is wanted is the murderer or murderers of Melvin Horst and his or their conviction, the prosecutor stated.

THE SIMILE

The simile is unexcelled as a figure of speech. Virgil's vivid descriptions and Burke's incomparable comparisons show its power and it has been developed to a high point by many modern writers. But the common use of the simile today is far different than that of other generations. It has become very largely an instrument of humor with every wit in the country bent on creating new points of likeness which will draw a laugh. There has been a consequent deterioration and a marked falling off in the power of the simile because there has been too much straining for effect and not enough for accuracy.

Modern writers hesitate to create new similes in a serious vein for fear of being ridiculed. A well-known columnist keeps a record of those which he considers poor and publishes them, being sure to mention the names of the authors. Perhaps he is justified for there is evidence that few writers are capable of using the simile intelligently.

Many popular similes are trite expressions used with little thought of their original meanings. We say "well like hushes," although few of us are familiar with the appearance of the delicacy let alone its popularity in the market. We say "quiet as a mouse," yet everyone has been disturbed at some time or other by the incessant scratching and squirming of a band of frolicking rodents.

Probably the first collection of similes was published by the English humorist, E. V. Lucas. He comments, that a few new phrases of acceptable quality might add a zest to the language and deplores the fact that there are so many time-worn and meaningless ones in common use. He is right, but the difficulty is that similes to be popular must be short, and few of them qualify. For instance, Lucas cites "as nervous as a man with St. Vitus dance walking on a tight rope across Niagara Falls" as a representative and worth-while phrase. By the time such an absurd and prolonged metaphor could be brought to a successful close, however, the original subject of the conversation would have been forgotten. Brevity is always the soul of wit and if the simile is to be an instrument of humor it must be short. Much humor awaits the fanciful wit who can equip the English language with a new and spicier variety.

Pacific coast farmers have complained to the United States bureau of agricultural economics in California that the manner in which jazz programs break into market news programs is a source of great irritation. It's just possible that the way some of the voices of speakers of the agricultural department break into jazz programs may be a bit annoying to jazz lovers—provided, of course, that there really are any such.

The Russians have cut Sunday off their calendar. They are the first nation to take active measures to get rid of the Sunday traffic toll.

What Others Say

ABUSE OF THE AIR

The radio is a wonderful device, an aid to navigation, a means of instantaneous communication round the world, a disseminator of orators and music and information; but it lends itself easily to gross abuse. Some of the evils to which it has been made heir can be eliminated by regulation. Others can't be. When one-half of the family turns his back to a radio for the other half to be tuning in on only what he wants to listen to, whether she cares for it or not, a situation is created that admits of only domestic solution. When public places to which the manner of urban living compels people of various minds and tastes from time to time to resort are filled with raucous sounds dispatched by one ignorant and picked from the list of programs by another, a public inconvenience is created. The interlarding of a Chopin symphony with the merits of the latest lubricant on the market is merely a provocative banality.

A nation with the genius to perfect and use the radio ought to have genius enough to prevent its becoming a nuisance, but unfortunately those who have commercialized it are intellectually remote from those who invented it. A mechanism that has caused so much damage to human nerves, at its present tender age, will be, when it grows up, a holy terror unless our national insanity for abuse is cured.—Detroit Free Press.

DO NOT OVER-DESS

Cold weather brings its burdens. We are young enough, no matter how old in years, to enjoy the snow and sparkle of Winter. But sometimes we like it better if we can look at its beauties through the window panes. The background of warmth promotes our enthusiasm.

But whether for pleasure or for duty's sake, we are driven into the cold air. Hustling along through the weather it is not long before there is a glow in the blood and a sparkle in the eyes.

As I said, however, there are drawbacks to winter. As a result of the cold, or of the way we dress and eat at this season, there develop certain symptoms that are really disagreeable.

One of the most annoying is commonly called "Winter Itch." The legs and arms are the usual seats of trouble.

On getting ready for bed, almost as soon as the limbs are exposed, the itching begins. The terrible thing about it is that the more you scratch the itching place, the more it itches. It nearly drives you mad.

I need say no more in describing the symptoms. If you ever had Winter Itch, no words of description are needed. If you never had it, of course you are not interested.

Why do people have this ailment? The covering of the body is not the same for everybody. Some unfortunate have thin, easily irritated skins. They sunburn easily. The wind cuts and inflames the delicate tissue.

In winter, the clothing, particularly the underwear, may be rough and irritating. It scratches and disturbs the skin.

Many persons dress so heavily in cold weather that an hour or more in the house may result in considerable perspiration. Then, on going into the cold, there is more or less chapping of the skin. This leads to soreness and itching.

Too much eating of pancakes, syrup, sausages and other "heating foods," may create such disturbances in the body as to cause itching and burning. The system becomes "acid." Then the skin becomes irritated.

Another thing: Not every brand of soap is good for every skin. The first thing to think about, if you have itching, is to inquire if your soap is "free alkali."

It is amazing what relief may follow a change in soap. In severe cases, I have told my patients to use oatmeal water instead of soap.

Smearing the itching skin with petroleum oil, vasoline, cold cream, sweet butter, lard or ordinary cream may help a lot. But if those simple things fail, try mopping the itching parts with a solution of hypochlorite of soda, a tablespoonful to half a cup of water.

Answers to Health Queries

M. L. R. Q.—What can be done for a weak stomach in a young man of 22? He can eat just as much and then cannot retain more.

A.—May be due to a nervous condition, affecting the digestion and causing hyperacidity. He should avoid sweets and too much starchy food, and should keep his system clear.

Mrs. T. M. H. Q.—What do you advise for low blood pressure?

A.—This is a disturbance usually found accompanying some other condition. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question. Proper diet and general care will usually bring about results.

WARNS AUTOISTS

Editor of News:—

An incident I noticed at the corner of State and Landy made me think that it might be well for the automobile drivers of Salem to know that the pedestrians have rights.

On State Street made a right-hand turn onto Landy; pedestrians going on the green light were crossing Landy and the driver blew his horn and continued to make the turn raising the pedestrians to scramble to keep from being run down. The courts have decided that those walking under these circumstances have the right of way and to use the words of the court, "Do not have to run to places of safety; they have also decided that if a pedestrian starts to cross when the light is green, and it changes while they are in the middle of the street it is the duty of the driver to look out for them."

The Stars Say—

For Sunday, Feb. 16

Sunday's horoscope accents the prosperous conditions of church and charity and points to activity and excitement generally. Sudden change is seen, with possible travel and new employment.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year of conflicting conditions, with change, some advancement, but also some frustrated hopes and endeavors, and some slight unhappiness. A child born on this day should be enterprising, resourceful and ambitious but must work hard for its ultimate success.

For Monday, Feb. 17

Monday's astrological forecast is for promotion or preferment in employment, with favors or recognition from those in high places. Nevertheless, there is some hazard as to money and also a possibility of depletion or misrepresentation, unless unusual care be exercised.

Those whose birthday it is may look for advancement or favors in employment, or some preferment or advance from superiors. But they should be on guard as to fraud, duplicity, and should safeguard their finances. A child born on this day may be clever and shrewd and should reach a high place in employment of others.

Hedgcock and four girls were en route to the prom which was held at the Neil house, local hotel.

The injured persons are:

A fire broke out in Hedgcock's automobile but it was quickly extinguished and did only slight damage.

Septuagesima Sunday. Sunday school 9:45 (Matthew 9:1-13). H. E. Smith, supt.

The words of Jesus were, and are unsurpassed. We can say the same about the words of Jesus. In fact, you should not divorce these two phases of the life of our Lord. The miracles were wonderful deeds. Many were amazed at them. However, you have not fathomed the miracles of the Christ, unless you see back of them, the loving and tender nature of the Son of God.

Morning worship 11:00. Sermon: "Questioning God's Justice." That God is all-wise, all-powerful and all-loving we do confess. Yet in some experiences of life, questions concerning the justice of the Divine Power may be raised. Is it just to grant complete forgiveness to a last-minute repentant sinner? Is it just to see so little distinguished favor between the children of God's Kingdom and the children of the other Kingdom? One of the parables of the Gospel according to St. Matthew will answer our questions.

Dayton Kyser Tossers, Sharon, Pa. Girls Play Here Tonight

Salem High To Close Home Schedule With Three Feature Games

Salem High teams bring to a close their home schedules of the 1935-36 basketball season with three games at the high school gymnasium tonight.

The varsity boys' team clashes with the strong Dayton Kyser aggregation in the feature game at 9 p. m. while the Red and Black girls' team and boys' reserves vie for honors with visiting passers in preliminary battles.

The reserves meet the North Canton High varsity in the first game at 7 o'clock while the girls play the classy Sharon, Pa. sextet in the semi-final duel.

Only four games remain on the Red and Black schedule after tonight's games. Two will be played by Floyd Stone's varsity and one each by the boys' reserves and girls' varsity. Each of the four games is slated as from home.

Four Games Next Week
The schedule will come to its official end next Friday and Saturday with games at Struthers and Alliance High. The varsity and reserve teams play at Alliance Friday while on Saturday the girls and boys teams go to Struthers.

Preparations will be started immediately after the close of the regular season schedule for the annual northeastern Ohio district tournament which will be held at Akron Goodyear gym. Friday and Saturday, March 7 and 8. The Columbiana county Class B tourney will be held at the Salem High gym Friday and Saturday, February 28 and March 1.

Stone is expected to start his regular starting five against the Dayton basketballers in tonight's feature with Stretch Early at center; Skippy Greenstein and Bill Smith at forwards and Glenn Whinnery and Polly Sartick at guards. Anne Celschlagler will use Anna Zelle and Burt at forwards; Susan Lutsch at center and Margaret Reich, Jones and Krepps at guards.

THE DAY In Sports

TOLERTON OUT FOR TRACK
GIRLS RACE UNDECIDED

Gus Tolerton, former Salem High athlete, is being counted on as one of Miami College's coming track stars during the 1936 Ohio conference track and field season this year. Coach G. H. Miller's track men are grooming him for shot put and high jump events in which he won his last season.

Tolerton was a member of the 1937 Salem High championship basketball team and a member of the varsity track and football squads for three years. He never won regular berths on any of the three scholastic teams but is spoken of by Miller as one of the many high school athletes who only advances into his prime in his college athletic career. Tolerton is a junior this year.

One of the largest crowds of the season should be present at the closing home game of the Salem High team here tonight. Crowds have continually been far from par and backing given the Red and Black has been disappointing.

Two members of Coach Stone's regular varsity five will be playing their last game on their home hardwoods when the team clashes with Dayton Kyser High tonight. They are Clifford "Skippy" Greenstein and Glenn Whinnery. Greenstein has been acting as captain in most of the team's games while Whinnery was honorary captain of the undefeated football team of last season.

The county girls' championship will in all probability be claimed by several different high school teams this season but the title will never be a matter of definite ownership by any team as a result of Salem High's unexpected 24-22 victory over Wellsville last night. The Red and Black sextet has a county record of four games won and two lost and probably has as good a claim as any other school.

Just as the Salem girls' victory was unexpected so was the battle put up by the Wellsville boys as a matter of surprise to many local fans. But to those who have followed both teams it was nothing unusual for the Orange and Black always presents a strong attack on a home floor and a setback for Salem wouldn't have been such an upset of dogs as many would claim. Considering the hard fight Wellsville gave Salem when the two teams met here last night's close game should have been expected.

Red And Black Ends Conquest For County Title With 28-21 Victory Over Wellsville High

Stonemen Stage Thrilling Come-Back In Final Period After Trailing Throughout Game; Girls Win By Last Quarter Rally

Salem High ended its conquest for a sixth consecutive Columbiana county basketball championship, defeating Wellsville tossers by a 28-21 score at Wellsville Friday night. Wellsville led the scoring throughout the first three periods of the contest and appeared well on their way towards their first victory over the Red and Black in years when the Stonemen rallied and in a sensational comeback in the fourth period, required their fourth county victory of the season.

Orange and Black passers held an 8-3 lead at the end of the first quarter and were ahead by a 14-8 margin at the half. They scored seven points to Salem's five in the third period and were ahead by an apparently decisive eight-point margin as the fourth quarter started with the score 21-13.

Salem Knights' lads started in the first minute of the final session in stage what is undoubtedly his team's most desperate and telling rally of the season. Wellsville was outclassed throughout the eight minutes of play, failed to score a solitary point, while Salem romped through with the decision by gathering in a total of 15 points in the last quarter.

POPE CRUSADES
AGAINST DRESS
 Immodesty Hit by Head
 Of Catholic Church;
 Instructions

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 15.—Pope Pius XI has started a new crusade against "immodesty" of feminine dress throughout the world.
 As a result, Catholic bishops were today awaiting instructions sent out by the sacred congregation of the council of the Roman Catholic church laying down 12 rules to be followed in stamping out this alleged evil.
 The instructions stated that parish priests and preachers on given occasions should beseech women to wear modest clothes; that parents should instill modesty of dress in the minds of their daughters and forbid participation in athletic events unless modestly attired; that teachers and heads of schools should similarly influence young girls and forbid admittance to improperly-dressed girls; that women's religious association should be formed for the same purpose; that immodestly-dressed women should be barred from religious associations, excluded from holy communion and from acting as godmothers; that the council of vigilance in each diocese should take this matter up at least once a year and suggest practical measures; and that bishops should report progress made in their dioceses every three years.

"Listen, if a girl wants to be good, she can get by in a string of beads—and if she wants to be bad, she's not safe in tin-plate armor!" The new girl has her say in "Tanned Legs."

again seen with her $100,000 dimpled knees in "Tanned Legs." June Clyde, the lass who sang with such success in "Street Girl" is given her first lead while Arthur Lake and Sally Blane are in supporting roles.
 Grand Winners of "In The Headlines" fame, Bert Ropach, the corpulent comedian and Charlotte Greenwood are the principals in "So Long Letty" a comedy of the first ranking if there ever was one. Patsy Ruth Miller, Harry Gribben, Helen Foster and Claude Gillingwater are other well known players in the cast.
 Ending a three-day run at the Grand tonight, "Is Everybody Happy?" with Ted Lewis, high hat jazz tragedian in the leading role, it is unfortunate that it is being run on the same date with "Sunny Side Up" for it is undoubtedly one of the finest pictures of its kind shown here in some time.
 "Sunny Side Up," the singing, talking dancing production which has eclipsed all other cinematic vehicles since sound pictures began, closes a sensational four-day run at the State theater with four showings today. A matinee will be shown at 2:30, while three shows, at 6, 8 and 10 o'clock will be shown tonight.
 "Sunny Side Up" is without doubt the great picture of the year and outranks even "Gold-Diggers of Broadway" in popularity. It has been showing to capacity houses for the past three days.
 Another of the truly great celluloid dramas of the year will be shown for three days at the State next week when "Flight," an aviation picture starring Jack Holt and Ralph Graves is produced in this district for the first time. It is a sensational drama of adventure in the sky, produced through special co-operation with the United States government with aviation and marine corps.
 "Flight" will be shown Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The full week's schedule follows:
AT THE STATE
 Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday—"Jazz Heaven"; Pinky Pinkerton and his saxotet on the stage.
 Thursday, Friday, Saturday—"Flight"; Fables in sound.
AT THE GRAND
 Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday—"Tanned Legs"; talking comedy.
 Thursday, Friday—"Fighting Parsons"; sound News and Review.
 Saturday—"So Long Letty"; all talking comedy, serial.
 Sunday—"So Long Letty"; all talking comedy, serial.
